FARMHOUSE HOTEL

Mila Podiablonska of Absolute Interior Décor completed this Belgian Farmhouse, Borgloon, Belgium, in December 2014. The project included fully renovating a relatively new farmhouse in Belgium, which was built in the 1970's in an area well known for fruit farming and horse riding. Mila's client is a successful young businessman and farmer who travels a great deal on business, spending much of his time in comfortable city hotels. The principle remit therefore was to deliver that hotel level of luxury in the farmhouse, but also making the property warm and comfortable, only using high-quality natural materials and incorporating real fireplaces for a homely feel for when he returns. The exterior improvements also needed to be sympathetic to the surrounding buildings, which in many cases were much older properties, with some dating from the 15th century.
