REFLECTING SPACE

This newly built one bedroom apartment measures only 74 square metres. The challenge set by the client, was to transform this into a stylish two bedroom home on a very limited budget. Space was increased by introducing custom built sliding doors from the living room to the bedroom, which served to not only add privacy to the bedroom when required, but to provide a much greater feeling of space when left open. There was a structural supporting column in the centre of the apartment, which proved convenient when extending the wall, so that Mia could create a separate entrance corridor. Mia worked with SLV in Germany to find suitable soft lighting to highlight the beauty of the texture and colours of the walls, furniture and objet d'art. Mia has also used beautiful polished metal furniture and objet d'art from Megaron in Turkey. Classic trunks from the Kelly Hoppen furniture collection have been used for the bedside tables in the master bedroom and solid gloss painted tree trunks for the bedside tables in the guest bedroom. The rest of the design provides harmony with neutral tones of the walls, furniture and accessories to provide a clean and timeless composition.

This Kiev apartment, Ukraine, was designed by Mila Podiablonska of Absolute Interior Décor and completed in September 2014. Photography by Alexandr Chemerskiy.
